

CISO ADVISORY SERVICES

You understand that a strong security governance and compliance plan to protect that data is no longer an IT responsibility—it's also a business necessity. A full-time, dedicated Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) to provide the required governance programs and ensure compliance may not be feasible for your organization. Your business may be subject to certain regulatory requirements that require someone within the organization to fill this role. Alternatively, your current CISO may require additional resources or benefit from an external perspective.

EXECUTIVE INFORMATION SECURITY EXPERTISE FOR YOUR BUSINESS

CISO Advisory Services are designed for companies who require a comprehensive information security program but do not have the resources or the requirement for a full-time, dedicated CISO. Our solution allows you to leverage our resources or augment your resources to either establish or guide your governance, risk and compliance program based on security industry best practices or regulatory requirements. We help you stay vigilant about existing and emerging threats by working with you to implement, monitor and maintain security controls, policies and procedures to better protect your organization.
